16 Management for Exposure to COVID-19

16.1 Definition of COVID-19

COVID-19 is a disease caused by a new strain of coronavirus. 'CO' stands for corona, 'VI' for virus, and 'D' for disease. Formerly, this disease was referred to as '2019 novel coronavirus' or '2019-nCoV.' The COVID-19 virus is a new virus linked to the same family of viruses as Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS) and some types of common cold. [1]

[1] https://www.who.int/docs/defa u It-source/coronaviruses/key-messages-a nd-actions-for-covid-19-preventionand-control

16.2 Facts

- Symptoms can include fever, cough and shortness of breath. In more severe cases, infection can cause pneumonia or breathing difficulties.
- The virus is transmitted through direct contact with respiratory droplets of an infected person (generated through coughing and sneezing). Individuals can also be infected from and touching surfaces contaminated with the virus and touching their face (e.g., eyes, nose, mouth). The COVID-19 virus may survive on surfaces for several hours, but simple disinfectants can kill it.

16.3 How can the spread of COVID-19 be slowed down or prevented?

As with other respiratory infections like the flu or the common cold, public health measures are critical to slow the spread of illnesses. Public health measures are everyday preventive actions that include:

- Staying home when sick
- covering mouth and nose with flexed elbow or tissue when coughing or sneezing.
- Dispose of used tissue immediately
- washing hands often with soap and water; and
- cleaning frequently touched surfaces and objects.

As we learn more about COVID-19 public health officials may recommend additional actions.

16.4 Risk Control Measures for staff and students

Following basic principles can help keep students, teachers, and staff safe at school and help stop the spread of this disease. Recommendations for the staff and students of ETTA are:

Sick students, teachers and other staff should not come to the Academy.

- Academy must implement regular hand washing with safe water and soap, alcohol rub/hand sanitizer or chlorine solution and, at a minimum, daily disinfection and cleaning of school surfaces.
- Academy must provide water, sanitation and waste management facilities and follow environmental cleaning and decontamination procedures.
- Academy must promote 2 Meter social distancing (a term applied to certain actions that are taken to slow down the spread of a highly contagious disease, including limiting large groups of people coming together).
- Attendance must be kept for all the employee's, visitors, and students as per operational hours.
- All sites should require employees, students, and visitors to wear face masks.

- In addition, all sites must reinforce with employees, visitors and students that face masks, and gloves may not be used by any other person except to whom it was issued to minimise any cross contamination. All used PPE must be discarded as medical waste

- All employees, visitors and students transport are to be engaged by sites and risk assessed to ensure that a reasonably practicable sanitation is in place.

- Other Controls Where possible, offices should minimise the use of recycled air through air-conditioning and keep windows and doors open to improve cross ventilation. be risk assessed for efficacy and monitored on a regular basis. 70% alcohol-based disinfectants to be used if available. As far as practicable, crockery and eating utensils should be disposable.

- Offices and Meeting Areas All surfaces such as tables and handles in offices and meeting areas must have their cleaning frequency - Security will provide hand sanitiser for every person entering the premises to sanitise their hands. 37 ^{Q}C or more are not allowed on premises).

- All employees, volunteers and members details will be recorded when entering the premises.

- Every person entering the premises must wear a facemask.

- Security will provide hand sanitiser for every person entering the premises to sanitise their hands.

(All the information taken from the WHO document on COVID-19)

17 Monitoring and Review of the policy

The Human Resource Manager will be responsible for reviewing this policy on an annual basis to ensure that it meets legal requirements and reflects best practice.

5   Scope

Scope of this Policy will be applicable to the internal Department of the Education. This policy must refer to the information contained in the other Policies and Procedures.

6   Policy Principles

The design of the ETTA Recruitment Policy and Appointment Procedures is based on the following principles:

2. Job description should be clearly stated on the post advertised (e.g., Facilitator)

3. Job qualification requirement(s) should be clearly stated (e.g., Bachelor's degree/Diploma majoring in Theology)

4. All vacancies shall be open to all applicants irrespective of sex, race and disability will be without discriminatory phrases.

5. The policy of equal opportunity shall be emphasized at all stages.

6. However, the Management reserves the right to consider for appointment persons other than those who make formal application in response to the initial advertisement

7   Policy Aspects

Taking the above principles into consideration, the following policy is put forward:

1. Recruitment and selection practices must be fair, just, equitable and ensure that the most suitable candidates are selected for appointment according to their skills, training, competence, potential, knowledge and the need to redress the imbalances of the past to achieve an organisation broadly representative of the South African population, including representation according to race, gender and disability.

2. ETTA is an equal opportunity Employer committed to address the issue of employees from designated groups who can play a significant role in the Academy's future success.

3. ETTA reserves the rights to employ a foreign candidate if ETTA is unable to find the required skilled person according to the job description from the available resources and advertisement nationally.

4. In case of foreign candidate, a proper ID/Passport Document with valid Visa is required. (In case of Refugee, a proper formal Refugee status document (Section 24 or 27) is required from the South African Department of Home Affairs).

5. The advertisement must carry the following contents of the job:

   - The job title - which should be gender neutral

   - Main purpose or function of the job - a brief statement

   - Main tasks, duties, and responsibilities - including a general statement to cover "such other duties as may reasonably be assigned"

   - The scope of the job - where the main tasks may not amply cover the scope or importance of the job, an indication of the number of people supervised, the equipment and other resources etc. may be given.

6. In drawing up the person specification attention will be given to:

   - The knowledge and skills required for the job, which include job-related abilities, qualifications, and knowledge. Identifying ways of testing and measuring relevant skills that gives objectivity to the process

   - The experience needed to perform the job competently, which may arise from a variety of backgrounds

   - Any personal factors must be relevant to the performance of the job. The aim is to be explicit about the tasks to be performed so that a potential applicant with a disability is in a position to judge their suitability for a particular job.

7. For short listing of Candidates, attention will be given to:

- The Short-listing panel shall comprise of the Chief Executive Officer of ETTA, at least one Director of ETTA, Academic Manager/ Dean, Secretary, Administration Manager and an expert in the area of the advertised post, two people shall sit as observers, provided that none of the invited representatives is a candidate for the post for which short listing is being done.

- Human Resource Manager must assist on all selection panels to provide administrative support, technical advice and to ensure that the principle of Employment Equity and Labour Relations are adhered to, but shall not complete score sheets if graded lower than the post to be filled.

8. Candidates who do not meet the minimum skills or qualification requirements should be automatically be excluded from the shortlist.

9. The interview panel must familiarize itself with the candidate's CVs prior to the interview.

10. All shortlisted CV should be scrutinized for irregularities that require further clarification in the interview process.

Consider the following:

- Contradictory information and/or gaps in employment;

- Vague or inadequate explanations of the reason for job changes/reasons for leaving;

- Stated qualifications from unknown institutions;

- Relevance and availability of references.

8   Appointment Procedures

For appointment, the following procedures to be followed:

a. Shortlists may range from two up to a maximum of four candidates.

b. The short-listing process must always involve more than one person.

c. When shortlisting, the aim is to match candidates to the advertised particulars, job outlines and person specifications. Attention must be paid to criteria specified as essential, desirable and other, in that order. Exceptionally where a large number of applications have been received, it may be necessary to introduce supplementary criteria to identify the final shortlist of up to four candidates. Such criteria must avoid factors that might be construed to be directly or indirectly discriminatory and be in conformity with equal opportunities considerations.

d. By using a shortlisting form, a record is kept of the reasons for shortlisting or rejecting candidates by referencing the selection criteria and information about the requirements of the job. Such notes may be referred to in the event of complaints or allegations of any unfairness in the selection process.

e. Written references on short-listed candidates will be taken up and be available to the selection panel. The Selection Panel should be given sufficient information about the job to make an informed judgment as to the ability of the candidate to undertake the tasks involved and to confirm that there are no major areas of concern such as capability and absenteeism.

f. Written references must be obtained where the job involves the handling of money or work in other sensitive areas (such as involving contact with young people or vulnerable adults) to vouch for the honesty and integrity of the candidate. Where a reference is short and uninformative, it may be necessary to seek supplementary comment or to obtain a further one. This can be done by fax or email. Telephone references must be avoided. Where applicants have asked that a referee not be approached without permission, such permission should be sought at an appropriate time in the recruitment process.

g. If a candidate does not nominate his or her current or last employer (if unemployed), it is appropriate to reserve the right to approach that employer with the candidate's agreement. References are confidential documents to be made available only to members of the selection panel.

h. So far as is reasonably practical and appropriate, selection panels should include men and women, those from minority ethnic groups and relevant stakeholders. It helps the process if the panel reflects the composition of the group to be interviewed. The panel should:

i. Ensure that the interviews are conducted in accordance with the policy on equal opportunities;

- Clarify any ambiguities and ensure there is a broad consensus prior to the commencement of formal interviews;

- Agree on the broad areas within which each member of the panel will question candidates and the approximate length of interviews;

- Ask comparable questions of all candidates.

8.1   The Selection Panel

Will aim to ensure that each interview is of roughly similar duration.

It is recommended that:

1. A mix of open and closed questions can be used with appropriate follow-up in order to assess candidate's ability to undertake the duties of the post and to probe the depth of knowledge of learners;

2. Key questions should be directed in much the same terms to each candidate so that all have the opportunity to respond to important issues or aspects of the job;

3. Where candidates are asked to comment on a specific technical point or hypothetical example, each candidate should normally be asked to address that same point;

4. Subsidiary questioning may be tailored to individual learners' experience;

5. At the conclusion of each interview candidates should be given the opportunity to raise any points or questions with the panel.

6. At the conclusion of the interview, the selection panel should advise candidates as to the way in which they will be notified as to the outcome. Normal practice is to contact the successful candidate by telephone and then inform unsuccessful candidates in writing as to the outcome.

7. The selection panel should be clear why the successful candidate (and any reserve learner) was chosen in preference to the other learners. Notes should be clear, to the point and non-discriminatory bearing in mind that in the event of disclosure the reasoning should be easily read by and understandable to a third party.

8. The selection panel shall advise the successful candidate that he or she is being recommended for appointment and ascertain whether the selected candidate is willing to accept the recommended salary and other terms to be offered.

9. Unsuccessful candidates must also be informed once an appointment is made. A candidate is satisfied with the recruitment and selection procedure should submit a written complaint to the panel. The panel will respond in writing the reasons why the appointee was selected. The Secretory Management will inform the complainant (within 2 weeks) in writing, the panel's reasons.

9   Monitoring

The CEO and Human Resource Manager will monitor the implementation of policy and procedures relating to Staff Recruitment Policy and Appointment Procedures at ETTA.

10 Evaluation and Review

The Academy's Management Board will evaluate, and review policies and procedures related to Staff Recruitment Policy and Appointment Procedures.

1   Preamble

ETTA has developed policy and procedures for staff Discipline as a part of ETTA Quality Management System (QMS).

2   Disciplinary Guidelines

2.1   Mediation

1. Mediation is the first step in dealing with grievances and all effort must be made to settle issues at this level.

2. The management schedules a meeting with the staff member and the respondent named in the staff member's grievance statement within five working days of receiving the written statement from the staff member.

3. Prior to this meeting, the management arranges for the respondent named in the grievance to receive a copy of the staff member's grievance statement.

4. Only another staff member or learner representative internal to the institution may accompany the grievant at this meeting or at any time during the grievance process.

5. If the respondent named in the staff member's grievance is the staff member's immediate supervisor and the staff member believes that it is not appropriate for the grievance to be referred to that person, the staff member can request that the ombudsman bypass this step.

6. At this meeting the issues raised by the staff member are discussed and possible solutions need to be considered.

7. If an agreement is met, the matter will be considered closed.

2.2 Disciplinary Action

In case the matter could not be solved through mediation or the complaint turns out to be of a serious nature disciplinary action may be taken.

1. The complainant or management member who conducted the mediation hearing must file a complaint with the Disciplinary Committee of the

2. Institution (DC).

3. DC compiles files of all evidence, witnesses, etc.

4. DC draws up a charge sheet and hand it to the defendant.

5. DC informs all parties involved in writing about the date, venue and time of hearing.

6. A hearing is held where all parties receive a fair chance to present their case and answer charges.

7. The DC passes a verdict and minutes it and has it signed by all parties.

8. The Verdict is implemented, following the correct internal and legal procedures.

9. In case an appeal is requested, the DC may decide whether it is granted.

10. If an appeal hearing is granted; the same procedures are to be followed.

11. Findings recorded in personnel files and all documentation on the case is filed.

2.3   External Litigation

Should the defendant want to pursue the case outside of the company, through the CCMA or a civil lawsuit, senior management must assign the HR Manager or another staff member to attend to the case on behalf of ETTA.

2.4   Procedures relating to staff performance

If a staff member's work performance is not satisfactory, or if the staff member has violated any of the ETTA policies, it is the Human Resource Manager's responsibility to take corrective action. To determine an appropriate course of action, the supervisor considers the staff member's employment status (whether the staff member is serving a provisional period or is on probation), the nature and severity of the work performance issue, the frequency with which the problem has occurred and any extenuating circumstances.

2.5   Feedback

Constructive feedback is often an effective means of resolving work-related problems while promoting mutual respect between staff members and supervisors. As part of this ongoing process, the supervisor identifies areas that need to be improved and specifies a method of improvement. When discussing work performance, the supervisor provides specific feedback to the staff member about how performance should improve. If constructive feedback does not result in improved performance, the supervisor can issue a verbal warning.

2.6   Warnings

A verbal warning directs a staff member's attention to a work performance issue or other work-related problem by giving the staff member specific information about the nature of the problem, the improvement needed a timetable for future review, and the consequences of continued unsatisfactory performance.

2.7   Formal written warning

If a staff member does not meet the performance standards communicated by the supervisor in the verbal warning, a formal written warning can be issued. Normally, this step is undertaken only after the supervisor has discussed the performance issue with his or her manager and the human resources representative. The written warning is given to the staff member following a meeting between the staff member and the supervisor.

This disciplinary letter contains specific information about the nature of the problem, the improvement needed, a timetable for future review and the consequences of continued unsatisfactory performance. A copy of the letter is placed in the staff member's personnel file. Although a written warning is generally issued to an employee after a verbal warning has been given, in some cases the nature of the performance issue and other circumstances justify giving the employee a written warning without providing a prior verbal warning.

2.8   Suspension

A staff member who is charged with serious infractions of the institution's policy or procedure may be suspended for a period of one to ten working days. Suspension may be imposed to permit an investigation prior to taking further disciplinary action. This step is normally undertaken only after the supervisor has discussed the performance issue with her or his manager and the human resources representative. The staff member must be called to a meeting where he/she is informed of the charges against him/her and the intended suspension. The suspension must be confirmed with the staff member in writing, stating whether it will be a paid or unpaid suspension, the length of the suspension and when to report back to work. A copy of this communication is placed in the staff member's personnel file.

A staff member may request in writing that the records of disciplinary actions be removed from his or her personnel file. The assigned person must consider the request and may authorise the removal of warnings and notices of suspension or probation that are more than three years old may be removed from the member's personnel file. Documentation related to the give case must however be kept on record by the management in case similar charges alter.

2.9   Terminations of service

Staff members who are not performing satisfactorily are subject to termination of their employment. Termination can only happen after all disciplinary steps outlined above have been followed and the accused was found guilty of an offence that merits termination. All employment terminations must be confirmed to the staff member in writing. A copy of this communication is placed in the staff member's central personnel file.

Suspension and termination are subject to appeal through the staff grievance procedure (Blueprint/QMS: 16).

3   Monitoring

The Human Resource Manage will monitor the implementation of procedures relating to Staff Discipline ETTA.

4   Evaluation and Review

The Council will evaluate, and review procedures related to Staff Discipline.

Background

The virus that causes COVID-19 – SARS-CoV-2 – is mainly spread by respiratory droplets. When someone infected with COVID-19 coughs or sneezes, respiratory droplets that contain the virus are expelled and can be breathed in by someone nearby.

Although the virus cannot enter the body through the skin, the respiratory droplets carrying the virus can get into your airways or mucous membranes of your eyes, nose, or mouth to infect you.

The virus can also be spread if you touch a surface contaminated with the virus and then touch your eyes, nose or mouth, although this is not the primary way the virus spreads. As a result, institutions need to have cleaning protocols to limit SARS-CoV-2 spread.

Purpose of document

The purpose of this document is to guide cleaning and disinfecting in the Post School Education and Training (PSET) sector.

These guidelines have been modified from various sources, including the SA National Institute for Communicable Diseases (NICD), the World Health Organization, and the US CDC. https://www.nicd.ac.za/covid-19-environmental-health-guidelines/ https://www.who.int/news-room/q-a-detail/q-a-coronaviruses https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/disinfecting-building-facility.html

Cleaning vs disinfecting

Routine cleaning and disinfecting are key to maintaining a safe environment for faculty, students, and staff.

- Cleaning removes dirt and most germs and is usually done with soap and water.
- Disinfecting kills most germs, depending on the type of chemical, and only when the chemical product is used as directed on the label.

Cleaning should be an ongoing routine activity with disinfecting taking place daily, or as the need arises after the obvious soiling of an area.

How long does SARS-CoV-2 last on surfaces?

According to the WHO, studies have shown that the SARS-CoV-2 can survive for up to 72 hours on plastic and stainless steel, less than 4 hours on copper, and less than 24 hours on cardboard.

Different surfaces that need cleaning

- There is a wide range of items and surfaces that require cleaning and disinfecting in the PSET environments, and these include hard surfaces, soft surfaces, electronics, and laundry.
- Doorknobs and handles
- Stair rails
- Classroom desks and chairs
- Countertops
- Handrails
- Light switches
- Handles on equipment
- Pushbuttons on vending machines and elevators
- The pushbuttons/depressors of the alcohol hand solution for COVID-19 prevention
- Shared equipment, machinery, etc
- Shared remote controls
- Shared desktops
- Shared computer keyboards and mice

Note: Computer keyboards are difficult to clean. Shared computers should have signs posted instructing proper hand hygiene before and after using them to minimize disease transmission. To facilitate cleaning, consider using covers that protect the keys but enable the use of the keys.

It is not necessary to routinely apply disinfectants to surfaces that are not high-touch or high-risk (e.g., floors, bookcases, tops of filing cabinets). Soft surfaces such as carpets, rugs, and drapes can be cleaned using soap and water or a cleaner appropriate for the material.

Special areas not included in guidance

This guidance does not include specialized areas, such as laboratories, animal houses, chemical stores, waiting areas, libraries, admin areas and other restricted environments that may require specialist cleaning processes and cleaning solutions. Each institution will need to assess their specific environments and clean these specialised areas accordingly.

What to do when cleaning as a routine

- Regular cleaning staff can clean and disinfect community spaces. Ensure they are trained on the appropriate use of cleaning and disinfection chemicals.

  - Wear disposable gloves and gowns for all tasks in the cleaning process, including handling trash. Additional personal protective equipment (PPE) might be required based on the cleaning/disinfectant products being used and whether there is a risk of splash.

- o Gloves and gowns should be removed carefully to avoid contamination of the wearer and the surrounding area.

- Wash hands often with soap and water for 20 seconds.

  - o Always wash hands immediately after removing gloves and after contact with a person who is sick.

  - o Hand sanitiser: If soap and water are not available and hands are not visibly dirty, an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol may be used. However, if hands are visibly dirty, wash hands with soap and water.

Additional key times to wash hands include:
- o After blowing one's nose, coughing, or sneezing. o After using the restroom.

- o Before eating or preparing food.

Special areas:

Residence rooms

These should be cleaned according to normal household protocols within residence rooms. Outside the confines of each resident's room, the general protocol for cleaning of all surfaces in common areas, apply.

Lecture Rooms

Lecture rooms should be cleaned daily when teaching and learning has ended for the day. After cleaning, the hand sanitiser dispenser that is stationed outside each lecture room should be refilled so that the lecturer and students can sanitise before re-entering the lecture room the next day.

Cafeterias

Cafeterias in general campus environments as well as within residences are potential areas where spread may occur at a higher rate. This is on account of many people being in a limited space, the same people using tables, chairs, etc; as well as the possibility that staff preparing the food may be spreading the virus through droplet spread.

Thus, it is important that, in addition to the social distancing regulations, for there to be very regular cleaning of tables, surfaces, trays, chairs, etc. throughout the day within cafeterias.

Students and staff using these facilities should be encouraged to sit outside to consume food and drink, and where they do use the tables provided, to clean them before and after use.

Cleaning after someone attending the institution is confirmed with COVID-19

In cases where a positive student is identified on campus, based on information about where on campus the student was over the prior two days, it would be best to close off those areas if it is not possible to immediately clean and disinfect those spaces.

Cleaning outdoor areas

Outdoor areas generally require normal routine cleaning, but do not require disinfection.

- Do not spray disinfectant on outdoor items - it is not an efficient use of supplies and is not proven to reduce the risk of COVID-19 to the public.

- The exception - frequently touched surfaces made of plastic or metal, such as grab bars and railings should be cleaned routinely.

- Cleaning and disinfection of wooden surfaces (benches, tables) is not recommended.

   Sidewalks and roads should not be disinfected.

- Spread of COVID-19 from these surfaces is very unlikely and disinfection is not effective.

Capacity building of cleaning staff

HIGHER HEALTH will support every PSET Institution with Capacity Building of Cleaning Staff. Each institution must educate and train all cleaning staff, so that they understand more about SARS-CoV-2 and how it is spread, so that they are capacitated to clean effectively.

If cleaning services are a contractor service, the PSET institution should ensure that cleaning staff are adequately trained by the contractor, and that they are provided with up-to-date information.

Cleaning staff should receive training on what cleaning solutions should be used in different circumstances. Staff also need to be capacitated on protecting themselves, and why most routine cleaning does not need any specialized PPE. Educate workers performing cleaning to recognize the symptoms of COVID-19. Provide instructions on what to do if they develop symptoms.

Develop policies for worker protection and provide training to all cleaning staff on-site before providing cleaning tasks.

Training should include when to use PPE, what PPE is necessary for specialized cleaning, how to properly don (put on), use, and doff (take off) PPE, and how to properly dispose of PPE. Ensure workers are trained on the hazards of the cleaning chemicals used in the workplace

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

Guidance from national protocols should be used as per the links below:

Protocols for PPE: https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/downloads/A_FS_HCP_COVID19_PPE.pdf https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/hcp/using-ppe.html

The role of students and staff in cleaning

All students and staff must understand the importance of washing hands and of cleaning their environments.

Students should be encouraged to carry hand sanitizers to wash their hands regularly.

Students and staff should always have a dilute bleach solution and cloth with them, and clean the working area, keyboard, machine, etc. before starting to work, as well as on completion and leaving the space.

Cleaning and disinfecting a building or facility if someone is found Positive for COVID-19

It is important to note that the same cleaning solutions are used in this setting for routine cleaning. Cleaning after a confirmed COVID-19 person has been present is a more meticulous version of routine cleaning.

Close off areas used by the person who has been found positive for COVID-19. Institutions do not necessarily need to close operations if they can close off affected areas. As we learn to "live with this virus" it is anticipated that only affected components of organisations will close, rather than the entire organisation.

Regarding the affected room/building:

- Open outside doors and windows to increase air circulation in the area.

- If possible, wait 24 hours before cleaning/disinfecting. If 24 hours is not feasible, wait if possible.
- Clean and disinfect all areas used by the person who has COVID-19, such as offices, bathrooms, common areas, shared electronic equipment like tablets, touch screens, keyboards, remote controls, and ATMs.
    - Hypochlorite should be the solution that is used over wide areas, such as floors, desks, chairs, steps, etc.
    - Since 60-70% alcohol solutions are far more expensive, it should be used for other smaller areas and items that corrode. Thus, all metals and electronic goods, keyboards, door handles, laptops, etc. should be cleaned with an alcohol solution.
- Once the area has been appropriately disinfected, it can be opened for use.
- If there is any linen or laundry in the area (e.g., tablecloths), these should be washed in a heating cycle in the washing machine.
- Workers without close contact with the person who has COVID-19 can return to work immediately after disinfection. Those who have had exposure – according to the national guideline definition – should be in self-isolation, according to national guidelines.

If it is more than 7 days since the person who has COVID-19 visited or used the facility, additional cleaning and disinfection is not necessary.

Continue routine cleaning and disinfection after the special clean, as per this document. This includes everyday practices that businesses and communities normally use to maintain a healthy environment.

Acceptable Cleaning Chemicals

See Addendum 1: Cleaning Solutions & Addendum 2: Use of Bleach

The Role of Vaporized Spraying Over Large Areas

Certain countries have sprayed disinfectants over large areas using machines that spray out dry chemicals.

These methods are not supported by any science concerning their efficacy and should not be used indoors nor outdoors.

Addendum 1: Cleaning Solutions

As the world understands more about SARS CoV-2, it is possible to recommend specific compounds. While there are thousands of possible solutions, we recommend the highlighted ones for different purposes, as above. In South Africa, sodium hypochlorite (bleach) can be found in the form of multiple commercial products, "Jik" (or equivalent).

Antimicrobial agents effective against different coronaviruses: human coronavirus 229E (HCoV-229E), mouse hepatitis virus (MHV-2 and MHV-N), canine coronavirus (CCV), transmissible gastroenteritis virus (TGEV), and severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus (SARS-CoV)1 Antimicrobial agent

	Concentration	Coronaviruses tested
Ethanol	70%	HCoV-229E, MHV-2, MHV-N, CCV, TGEV
Sodium hypochlorite	0.1–0.5%	HCoV-229E
	0.05–0.1%	SARS-CoV
Povidone-iodine	10% (1% iodine)	HCoV-229E
Glutaraldehyde	2%	HCoV-229E
Isopropanol	50%	MHV-2, MHV-N, CCV
Benzalkonium chloride	0.05%	MHV-2, MHV-N, CCV
Sodium chlorite	0.23%	MHV-2, MHV-N, CCV
Formaldehyde	0.7%	MHV-2, MHV-N, CCV

Addendum 2: Use of bleach

From: https://www.info.gov.hk/info/sars/en/useofbleach.htm

Bleach is a strong and effective disinfectant. Its active ingredient, sodium hypochlorite, denatures protein in micro-organisms and is therefore effective in killing bacteria, fungus, and viruses. Household bleach works quickly and is widely available at a low cost. Diluted household bleach is thus recommended for the disinfection of facilities.

As bleach irritates mucous membranes, the skin and the airway, decomposes under heat or light, and reacts readily with other chemicals, caution should be exercised in the use of it. Improper use of bleach may reduce its effectiveness in disinfection and also lead to accidents which can be harmful to health. Overuse of bleach or using a bleach solution that is too concentrated results in the production of toxic substances that pollute the environment and disturb the ecological balance.

Tools and Equipment

Before cleaning, get all the necessary tools and equipment ready. Cleaning tools, cleansers/disinfectants, measuring tools, and protective gear will be needed.

- Cleaning tools: Brush, mop, towel, spray can and bucket.
- Cleansers/disinfectants: Bleach and water.
- Measuring tools: Tablespoon and measuring cup.
- Protective gear: Mask, rubber gloves, plastic apron, and goggles (recommended).

Procedures for Preparing/Using Diluted Bleach

Keep windows open when diluting or using bleach to ensure good ventilation. Put on protective gear when diluting or using bleach as it irritates mucous membranes, the skin, and the airways. Cold water should be used for dilution as hot water decomposes the active ingredient of bleach and renders it ineffective. Bleach containing 5.25% sodium hypochlorite should be diluted as follows (demonstration short):

1:99 diluted household bleach (mixing 10ml of bleach with 1litre of water) can be used for general household cleaning.

1:49 diluted household bleach (mixing 10ml of bleach with 0.5litre of water) is used to disinfect surfaces or articles contaminated with vomitus, excreta, secretions or blood.

Adjust the amount of bleach added if its concentration of sodium hypochlorite is above or below 5.25%

Calculation: Multiplier of the amount of bleach added = 5.25 concentration of sodium hypochlorite in bleach

For example, when diluting a bleach-containing only 5% sodium hypochlorite, the multiplier is 5.25 5=1.05. That means 10 x 1.05 = 10.5ml of bleach should be used when preparing a bleach solution. For accurate measurement of the amount of bleach added, a tablespoon or measuring cup can be used. Rinse disinfected articles with water and wipe dry. Cleaning tools should be soaked in diluted bleach for 30 minutes and then rinsed thoroughly before reuse. Finally, wash hands with liquid soap, then dry hands with a clean towel or disposable towel.

Precautions

Avoid using bleach on metals, wool, nylon, silk, dyed fabric, and painted surfaces. Avoid touching the eyes. If bleach gets into the eyes, immediately rinse with water for at least 15 minutes and consult a doctor.

Bleach should not be used together or mixed with other household detergents as this reduces its effectiveness in disinfection and causes chemical reactions. For instance, a toxic gas is produced when bleach is mixed with acidic detergents such as those used for toilet cleaning. This could result in accidents and injuries. If necessary, use detergents first and rinse thoroughly with water before using bleach for disinfection.

As undiluted bleach liberates a toxic gas when exposed to sunlight, it should be stored in a cool and shaded place out of reach of children. Sodium hypochlorite decomposes with time. To ensure its effectiveness, it is advised to purchase recently produced bleach and avoid over-stocking. For effective disinfection, diluted bleach should be used within 24 hours after preparation as decomposition increases with time if left unused.

1 Introduction

The ETTA Policy Statement is committed to providing a secure environment for all of its employees free of discrimination on any grounds and harassment at work, including sexual harassment.

ETTA will have a zero - tolerance approach for any form of sexual harassment in the workplace, will consider all incidents seriously, and will investigate any allegations of sexual harassment as soon as possible. Any employee who is discovered to have sexually harassed another will face disciplinary action, up to and including termination. All sexual harassment allegations will be seriously considered and treated with respect and discretion. No one will suffer consequences for lodging such a complaint.

1.1 Definition of sexual harassment Sexual harassment is classified as intrusive sexual behaviour that causes an individual to feel offended, degraded, and/or intimidated. It involves situations in which a person is required to engage in sexual conduct as a condition of employment, as well as circumstances in which the recipient is exposed to a hostile, intimidating, or degrading environment. Sexual harassment can arise in one or more instances, and the behaviors that constitute harassment can be physical, verbal, or nonverbal.

Examples of conduct or behaviour which constitute sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

1.1.1 Physical conduct

• Unwanted physical contact, such as patting, pinching, stroking, kissing, hugging, fondling, or inappropriate touching.

• Physical violence, including sexual assault

• The use of job-related threats or rewards to solicit sexual favours

1.1.2 Verbal conduct

• Comments on a worker's appearance, age, private life, etc.

• Sexual comments, comments, and pranks

• Sexual advances

• Persistent and unwanted social requests for dates or physical intimacy

• Insults based on the worker's sex

• Patronizing or condescending statements

• Sending sexually explicit messages (by phone or by email)

1.1.3   Nonverbal behaviour

• Display of sexually explicit or suggestive material

 • Sexually suggestive gestures

 • Whistling

 • Leering

Anyone can be a victim of sexual harassment, regardless of their gender or the gender of the harasser. ETTA acknowledges that sexual harassment can occur between members of the same gender. What matters is that the sexual conduct is unwanted and unwelcome by the individual against whom the conduct is committed.

ETTA recognises that sexual harassment is a manifestation of power relationships and often occurs within unequal relationships in the workplace, for example between manager or supervisor and employee. Anyone, including employees of ETTA , clients, customers, casual workers, contractors or visitors who sexually harasses another will be reprimanded in accordance with this internal policy.

All sexual harassment is prohibited whether it takes place within ETTA premises or outside, including at social events, business trips, training sessions or conferences sponsored by ETTA.

1.2   Complaint's procedures

Individuals who deal with sexual harassment complaints should be adequately trained on the issue as well as the nature of sexual harassment.

Secondly, sexual harassment individuals may choose to resolve the situation in a number of ways. Some people should be Ok with an informal resolution that puts the situation to a closure, whereas others prefer more formal means.

1.2.1   Harassment between supervisor and student

Where the allegation is serious or the harasser is also the victim's supervisor, informal resolution procedures may be inappropriate. It's important that the company's complaints procedures reflect these diverse requirements and techniques of conflict resolution. If possible, victims of sexual harassment should inform the alleged harasser that the behaviour is unwanted and unacceptable.

ETTA acknowledges that sexual harassment may occur in unequal relationships (for example, between a supervisor and his or her employee) and that the victim may not be able to inform the alleged harasser.

If a victim seems unable to address an alleged harasser directly, he or she may contact one of the designated staff members responsible for receiving sexual harassment complaints.

When a designated person receives a complaint of sexual harassment, he or she will:

- immediately record the dates, times and facts of the incident(s)
- find out what the victim wants as a result of the complaint;
- establish what the victim wants as a consequence of the complaint;
- either an informal or formal complaint, with the understanding that resolving the problem informally does not prohibit the victim from filing a formal complaint if he or she is disappointed with the result.
- keep a confidential record of all discussions
- respect the victim's choice; and
- make sure the victim is informed that they can file a formal complaint outside of the company through the relevant country/legal framework.

Throughout the complaint's procedure, a victim has the right to be assisted by a professional counsellor. ETTA will designate a number of counsellors and educate them with specialized training to assist victims of sexual harassment. ETTA acknowledges that because sexual harassment frequently occurs in unequal relationships in the workplace, victims constantly feel unwilling come forward. ETTA understands the importance of assisting victims in filing a complaint.

1.3   Informal complaints mechanism

If the victim wishes to deal with the matter informally, the designated person will:

- provide the alleged harasser with an opportunity to respond to the complaint; and • ensure that the alleged harasser understands the complaints process.
- promote discussion between both parties in reaching an informal resolution satisfactory to the complainant, or refer the issue to a designated mediator within the organization to resolve the matter;
- ensure that a confidential log of what occurred is preserved.¬ follow up after the outcome of the complaints mechanism to ensure that the behaviour has stopped.

- ensure that the preceding is completed in a timely manner and within 7 days of the complaint being submitted

1.4   Formal complaints mechanism

If the victim prefers to make a formal complaint, or if the informal complaint method has not resulted in a satisfactory outcome, the written complaint mechanism should be used to resolve the issue. The designated person who received the complaint will refer the issue to a senior human resources management, who will initiate a commission of inquiry. In accordance with this policy, the senior human resources manager may manage the case himself/herself, submit it to an internal or external investigator, or transfer it to a committee of three people.

1.4.1   The person carrying out the investigation will:

- Separately interview the victim and the alleged harasser.
- Interview other relevant third parties Separately determine whether or not the incident(s) of sexual harassment occurred.
- Produce a report detailing the investigations, findings, and any recommendations

In the instance that the harassment happened, identify the right solution for the complainant in consultation with the victim (i.e.- an apology, a change to working arrangements, a promotion if the victim was demoted as a result of the harassment, training for the harasser, discipline, suspension, dismissal)

Follow up to ensure that the guidance are executed, that the behaviour and attitude has stopped, and that the victim is satisfied with the result

• if it cannot be ascertained that the harassment transpired, he/she may still make recommendations to ensure proper workplace functioning

• keep a record of all actions taken

• ensure that all records concerning the matter are kept confidential

it is also vital that the wishes and needs of the victim are incorporated into the outcome of the complaint's mechanism.

For example, if it is found that a victim was harassed by a colleague and that they work together on a daily basis, the views of the victim should be ascertained before making a 5 decision on re-organising the office. For example, the victim may not want to be moved to a different department and as the victim, he/she should be entitled to decide this and not be re-victimised by being forced to move within the company.

1.5   Outside complaints mechanisms

A person who has been subject to sexual harassment can also make a complaint outside of the company.

1.6   Sanctions and disciplinary measures

Anyone who is discovered to have sexually harassed another individual in breach of this policy encounters various consequences:

- a verbal or written reprimand
- negative performance evaluation
- demotion
- suspension
- dismissal.

The gravity and extent of the harassment will influence the types of the consequences. To ensure that incidents of sexual harassment are not disregarded as insignificant, effective deterrent measures will be imposed. Certain extreme situations, including physical violence, will result in the harasser's immediate dismissal.

1.7   Implementation of this policy

ETTA will ensure that this regulation is extensively communicated to all relevant individuals. It will be incorporated into the employee manual. As part of their induction into the organization, all new employees must be educated on the content of this policy. ETTA will encourage all employees to attend a refresher course on the content of this policy yearly. Every manager is responsible for ensuring that all of his or her employees are aware of the policy.

1.8   Monitoring and evaluation

ETTA emphasizes the significance of monitoring this sexual harassment policy and will ensure that statistics and data on how it is used and whether or not it is effective are recorded anonymously. Supervisors, managers, and those in charge of overseeing sexual harassment cases will report on policy compliance, including the number of incidents, how they were resolved, and any recommendations made. This will be done yearly. As a result of this report, the company will examine the effectiveness of this policy and make the appropriate improvements.

   - The assessor must make sure that the learner, and if need be, witnesses, sign the check sheet.

4. The assessor must return the check sheets in a sealed envelope to the Provider within the agreed time after the assessment. In case the Check sheets must be mailed, it should be done by registered post.

12 External Assessment

12.1 External Integrated Summative Assessment (EISA)

IESA is the final national assessment after the full course has been successfully completed and learners received full competency credits for all modules. After the successful completion of the EISA learners qualify for the National Certificate for Religious Practitioners.

- EISA assessments are the responsibility of the ACRP-AQP at assessment sites which are arranged by AQP.
- EISA-sessions are scheduled twice a year and AQP publishes EISA dates in February of every year.
- Providers must supply AQP with full details of learners who qualify for EISA and who wish to sit for the evaluation not later than three (3) months before the published date.
- AQP arranges assessment sites in locations that are convenient for a minimum of eight (8) learners and where the necessary facilities are available.
- EISA is conducted where learners from different providers can sit for the assessment.
- This assessment is in the form of a written paper which must be answered in English.
- An AQP will appoint invigilators to officiate at the EISA and equip them with the necessary information and means to conduct the assessment.
- In cases where learners are not competent readers. (e.g., in case of NQF 2 learners, arrangements will be made to assist such learners with reading or writing aids.
- Competent assessors will be appointed at accredited Assessment centres where papers will be assessed and moderated.

13 The Assessment and Moderation Processes

After the process of assessing learners has been completed, their performance on the level of formative and internal summative assessment as well as their EISA performance must be assessed by qualified assessors. The function of the moderator on both levels of assessment is to verify the assessments.

14 The role of the Assessor

1) Assessors must be well informed about their functions and the manner to conduct assessments. For this purpose, AQP will supply guidelines for EISA sites and centres.

2) Providers are responsible to make sure assessors are informed on the aspects of this for Providers that are relevant to assessors.

3) Assessors must be acquainted with the content and required outcomes of the work that they assess.

4) The assessor must evaluate the quality of the learners' performance, knowledge and understanding against the national standards.

5) Based on the evidence (be it tests, portfolios, field reports etc.) the assessor must decide whether the learner has demonstrated evidence of having reached the required level of competence.

6) The assessor must provide feedback to the learner where necessary; feedback may be in the form of a memo or a meeting.

7) The assessor must forward all assessed evidence to the provider with a recommendation of the status of the learner for the module in terms of "competent" or "not yet competent."

8) If the institution does not have qualified assessors or in cases of decentralized learning centres, local pastors with formal theological training can be contracted to act as assessors.

9) Assessors responsible for assessing EISA results at assessment centres must have a higher level of knowledge and experience of the learning material than those at provider level.

15 The role of the Moderator

Moderation is the process of ensuring that the assessment process is conducted according to quality standards.

- Moderation of assessments is to be done by competent moderators who have a proper understanding of the requirements and procedures of the assessment procedures as well as the contents of the material that is moderated.

- Moderation may be done by any assessor who was not responsible for assessment of the work and has the required competencies.

- Moderation is done both on the internal level of the provider and on the external level at assessment centres. External moderation practice must comply with QCTO requirements.

15.1   The moderator has functions on two levels:

The moderator must verify that the assessment process has been conducted according to quality standards:

- To warrant that assessment process was conducted in a fair, valid, reliable and practical manner.

- To warrant that assessors fulfilled their duties according to prescribed procedures.

- To give feedback to the assessor in case about his/her performance and to advise of ways to improve the process and his/her functions.

The moderator must moderate at least 10% of the assessment documents of the learning group that was assessed by the assessor:

- All documents (Be it tests, portfolios, field reports etc.) that were assessed by the assessor must be handed to the moderator.

- The moderator must randomly select at least 10% of learners' assessment documents for moderation.

- The moderator must make sure that assessments done by assessors are complying with the standard of the curriculum; that assessor's' judgement is consistent across the spectrum; that it is fair and reliable.

- The moderator must verify the results awarded by the assessor.

- In cases where the moderator disagrees with the assessor's judgement or procedures, reasons for disagreement must be specified and documented.

- The moderator must sign a document of verification and, in the case of internal/provider level assessment, hand it, along with all assessment documents to the provider to serve as SOR.

- In the case of external (EISA) level assessment, these documents must be forwarded to AQP.

- Receive appeals from learners who are dissatisfied with the assessment procedures or the assessment or moderation results.

- Appeals must be forwarded to the Provider or AQP, as the case may be, to be handled according to procedures described in this Policy.

- In relevant cases the moderator must make recommendations to the assessor and provider for the re-assessment of learners.

- The moderator must report to the Provider or AQP on the level of competence of assessors and, where applicable, make recommendations for their re-training or removal as assessors.

16 The role of Learners

1) Learners are responsible to see to it that all evaluation instruments (portfolios, workplace assessment sheets etc.) are handed to the assessors on the agreed time.

2) Learners qualify for assessment when they have met all the learning programme requirements for a module and for EISA when all modules were completed.

3) Learners must adhere to assessment dates and times.

4) Learners must make sure that they understand the purpose of the assessment, the assessment process, the outcomes to be assessed, the criteria against which assessment will take place, the assessment method, the evidence requirements.

5) Learners have the right to discuss any uncertainties that they may have with regard to assessment with the relevant facilitator/teacher or assessor.

7) The learner must demonstrate competence within the agreed deadlines and according to the set criteria.

8) Learner must be given feedback by the assessor after the assessment on their performance, particularly on ways to improve their performance.

9) Learners on a "not yet competent€' rating must be given the opportunity to be re-assessed.
   - Re-assessment is part of the formative assessment process.
   - Learners will be given 1 opportunity to be reassessed at the date not later than 1 month in the case of internal assessment after first assessment or at the next EISA session. Thereafter training and assessment costs will be for the learner account and must be arranged by the learner with the provider or AQP respectively.
   - Re-assessment dates and must be arranged with learners concerned.
   - The assessor will authorise a re-assessment in agreement with the learner.

- The learner may be re-assessed by the same or different assessor.

- Learners have the right of appeal about assessment procedures and assessment results.

17   Learner Support in Assessment

1) Learner must be given all relevant information in terms of contents, procedures and requirements for assessment throughout the learning programme.

2) Learner support should focus on skills development towards performance competency.

3) Facilitator [teacher or assessor should be readily be available to learners who wish to discuss any uncertainties that they may have about assessment.

4) In every module the learners must be informed of the way in which they will be assessed in the EISA. The facilitator should have the copy of the EISA sample paper available in order to give relevant guidance to learners.

5) Facilitator [teacher or assessor must brief learners on assessment procedures immediately before any assessment is done, on how assessment instruments should be handled.

6) Learners, who are not competent in reading or writing (on NQF 2 level) or have other disabilities, must be provided with the necessary assistance as needed.

7) Learners will have access to learner records, training materials, information regarding learning opportunities relevant to the learning programme.

18 Assessment Recording

- The assessment instruments that will be used in a particular module must be outlined in the learning programme.

- Direct evidence of competence could include tests, projects, video, audio, portfolios of evidence etc.

- Indirect evidence could be in the form of verification of completed work, witness testimonies, performance appraisals and training records.

- In exceptional cases historical evidence such as documented evidence of the past and current achievements, audio-visual records of prior performance may be accepted as assessment evidence.

- Evidence gathering is the primarily the responsibility of the learner.

- After assessment and moderation all assessment evidence (documentation) and results must be handed to the provider, or to AQP in the case of EISA.

- Assessment documents must be stored for a period of 5 years.

- Assessment results must be stored both in hard copy and electronically.

- Internal assessment results must be uploaded by the provider on to the ACRP data basis after the completion of each module.

- External assessment results must be forwarded by AQP to QCTO and the learners be recommended for certification.

19 Appeals procedure

In case a learner has complaints about the assessment procedure or disagrees with the assessment results, the following steps should be followed.

1. Training-related complaints may be addressed directly to the facilitator or to the training manager. Try to resolve the matter immediately, to the satisfaction of all parties.

2. If the facilitator is unable to resolve the issue, the matter may be referred to the training manager.

3. If the facilitator and the training manager are not able to resolve the complaint, a senior manager may be called on to intervene.

20 Recognition of Prior Learning

Since individuals learn and develop not only in the classroom, ETTA acknowledges RPL as an integral part of academic and vocational education and training. All learning has value regardless of where it was acquired. The relevant factor is that the institution acknowledges this learning as having relevant value so that the learner does not spend time and money on re-learning. In line with the new education and training initiatives of SAQA, the institution seeks to include RPL as part of its management, administrative and curriculum structures where applicable. All the details regarding RPL procedures are available in RPL policy (ETTA/QMS:IO).

20.1 External Integrated Summative Assessment (EISA) and Certification

IESA is the final national assessment after the full course has been successfully completed and learners received full competency credits for all modules. After the successful completion of the EISA learners will qualify for the Certificate for Occupational Qualification issued by QCTO.

20.2 Monitoring

The Academic Dean will monitor the implementation of policy and procedures relating to Internal Assessment at ETTA.

20.3 Evaluation and Review

The Academic committee will evaluate, and review policies and procedures related to Internal Assessment.

3   Prologue

ETTA has developed a policy on Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) subjected to the National Qualifications Framework (NQF) Act 67 of 2008, in the context and criteria of the policy on Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) developed by the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) in March 2013 and Quality Council for Trades and Occupation (QCTO) in June 2014.

4   Definition

Quality Council for Trades and Occupation (QCTO) has interpreted the policy on Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) by South African Qualification Authority (SAQA) and defines the RPL (within the Occupational Qualifications Sub Framework OQSF) is a process by which candidates who have gained skills and knowledge through informal, non-formal or experiential learning, can be assessed, recognised and awarded credits for such learning if it meets the requirements of an NQF registered occupational qualification or part qualification .

(QCTO RPL Guidelines and Policy 2014: RPL-001/14).

5   Purpose

This policy is to show ETTA commitment towards Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) by creating an opportunity where informal and nonformal prior learning can be formally recognised productively. The purpose of the policy is outlined as:

- To recognize informal or non-formal learning.
- To avoid duplication of learning already covered.
- To provide satisfaction to a learner through support and services.
- To provide quality assurance framework for the RPL process.

ETTA's RPL policy promotes lifelong learning based on the principles of equity and inclusivity as stated by Department of Higher Education (D HET) in "White Paper for Post-School Education and Training" (November 2013).

6   Responsibility

The responsibility for Recognition of Prior Learning is with the Academic Dean.

7   RPL Principles

The following are the general principles set for the assessment of RPL by the ETTA's Academic Dean as aligned with the QCTO Policy 2014: RPL001/14: 8.

1) Be fair, reliable, valid, ethical and transparent.
2) Use QCTO approved methodologies and steps for RPL.

3) Avoid unfair exclusion.

4) Empower potential learners by correctly placing them in formal qualifications on the Occupational Qualifications Sub Framework.

5) Recognise the diversity of knowledge, skills and learning styles and provide holistic and flexible assessment.

6) Provide educational opportunities for life-long learning.

7) Meet the quality standards of a particular qualification or part qualification.

8) Promote awareness and encourage the candidates that there is no RPL without learning.

ETTA will ensure that administrative and support systems (including application, assessment, and reporting and management system) for the RPL process are in place and efficiently applied with the proper knowledge of the whole process of RPL (QCTO Policy 2014: RPL-001/14).

ETTA will make provision for regular quality review of RPL policy and practices (QCTO Policy 2014: RPL-001/14).

8   Quality Assurance

ETTA will make use of standard Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) documents developed by Assessment Quality Partner (AQP) for the sake of consistency and validity assessment.

1. RPL Application Form
2. RPL Policy and Procedures
3. RPL Assessment Schedule

1) Ensure that ETTA has the necessary staff to deliver quality RPL services and programmes.

2) Ensure effective financial planning for RPL administrative and logistical systems.

3) Continuous professional development of RPL practitioners.

4) Provide advice, counseling and support services to assist RPL candidates prior to, during and after the RPL process.

5) Establish an appeals process for RPL candidates to engage with and challenge the RPL related decision.

6) Develop an information management system that meets the requirements of the relevant quality assurance council.

7) Strictly maintain confidentiality measurements on recorded data relating to RPL achievements.

1   Preamble

ETTA has developed a policy and procedure for staff performance which is the part of the Academy s Quality Management System (QMS).

2   Purpose

This document provides guidelines for evaluating the performance of ETTA's staff. The Training Academy recognises the value of its employees and understands that the quality of its services depends upon the employees. It ETTA's policy to maintain a regular and meaningful staff employee performance appraisal system.

The primary goal of the appraisal is to encourage on-going, objective communication between the employee and management and on the employee's duties and performance; the secondary objective is then the continued improvement of every employee's job performance.

3   Performance appraisals

It is to provide a means of informing employees of the quality of their work and identifying areas of performance that may need improvement. Performance appraisals help supervisors make the most effective use of their personnel resources and provide valuable feedback to employees concerning their job performance and the expectations of their supervisors.

The objectives of the appraisal process are:

1. To provide clearly defined performance standards based upon the employee's current job description to ensure that employees know what is expected of them;
2. To encourage employees to have face-to-face discussions and provide employees feedback about their job performance;
3. To express appreciation for outstanding contributions and performance; conversely, to discuss performance areas where improvement is possible or needed and to outline plans for improving performance;
4. To translate quality policies into quality actions.

4   Staff evaluating procedures

During staff evaluating procedures the following must apply:

1. ETTA's Administration Manager is responsible for formally evaluating the performance of the employee using the Staff Performance Appraisal Form,
2. The appraisal interview shall be scheduled in advance and with only the CEO,
3. Administrator and one Board member and the employee in attendance;
4. The Administrator will conduct an interview with the employee to discuss his/her performance appraisal;
5. The performance appraisal form must be completed and signed by the Administration Manager in accordance with procedures established by Human Resources;
6. After the performance appraisal interview has been conducted, the employee shall sign the appraisal form acknowledging that he or she: had the opportunity to comment and discuss the appraisal;
7. The employee shall be provided with a copy of the appraisal;
8. The employee has the option of filing a written rebuttal to the appraisal within five working days of receiving it and can discuss the appraisal with the reviewing official. The rebuttal should be directed to Operations management. As a rule, the rebuttal should include an itemised list of the employee's objections to the appraisal, which he/she believes warrants further consideration;

9. Management has five working days to review and respond to the employee's objections to his/her performance appraisal. Management must contact the Administration Manager for clarification. The response shall be in writing and directed to the employee.

10. If a meeting has been requested, management will schedule and meet with the employee within the five working days. Management will determine whether to amend the performance appraisal or uphold the original appraisal.

11. 1f the employee refuses to sign the appraisal, the supervisor conducting the evaluation shall so indicate by noting, "Employee refused to sign" and by initialling the refusal date.

12. Completed appraisals shall be forwarded to Human Resources for filing in the employee's official personnel file.

Quality Management System	An organizational system consists of policies and procedures to run day to day and all other organizational operations smoothly. This system helps to keep the quality of Organizational structure, program delivery up to date.

3   Prologue

This policy forms part of the set of ETTA Quality Management System (QMS). ETTA practices a policy of equal opportunities for all staff, students and stakeholders. The purpose of this code is to provide a clear statement of this policy in relation to people with disabilities. ETTA is committed to equality of opportunity in all its employees and other practices in relation to persons with disabilities.

4   Definition

According to the Employment Equity Act 55 of 1998, in South Africa, people with disabilities are people who have a long-term or recurring physical, including sensory or mental impairment which substantially limits their prospect of entry into or advancement in employment and education.

5   Responsibility

The provisions of the law will supersede the contents of this document. It is the responsibility of ETTA all staff members, students and other stakeholders to carefully study and understand this document and ignorance of the document will not be considered a legitimate reason in any dispute, disagreement or discussion pertaining to adherence.

6   Purpose

Through its policies, ETTA will aim to ensure that persons with disabilities are placed in jobs that are matched to their skills and abilities and are not disadvantaged by their disabilities. We will endeavour to meet the requirements to which some disabilities give rise to maximize access to employment for persons with disabilities and enable employees with disabilities to make the fullest possible contribution in their place of work.

About students, ETTA acknowledges that people with disabilities have the same right to reach their academic potential as people who do not have a disability. Therefore, reasonable provisions are made to assist and accommodate students with disabilities in the teaching and learning environment.

1. Recorded audio workshops will be available upon request where necessary.

2. Additional time will be provided to complete assignments and formative assessments.

3. In the case of Integrated External Summative Assessments (IESA), ETTA will inform the QCTO and Quality Assessment Partner to make the necessary arrangements accordingly.

4. Access will be provided for students with physical disabilities as far as facilities on the campus can accommodate this.

It is the right and responsibility of a prospective disabled student to declare his or her disability when he or she applies for admission, and to familiarise him or herself with the policies and procedures regarding disabilities in order to negotiate support from the Academy. The Student Affairs Manager and Academic Dean will determine the special provision for assessment that the Academy can accommodate.

7   Workplace

People with disabilities must be recognised and treated as having equal status with all other persons. This requires that there be equality of opportunity to participate in the workforce. It requires having resources available to them to exercise that right in practice. Disabled persons must be facilitated in such a way that they can participate on equal terms.

8   Implementation

All the staff has a role in ensuring that the provisions of the Code are adhered to. It is the responsibility of all employees to make themselves familiar with this policy and related procedures and to treat their disabled colleagues with the same dignity and respect that should be properly accorded to other colleagues at all levels in the organisation.

9   Evaluation and Review

The Human Resource Manager and Administration Manager will be responsible for the evaluation and reviewing this policy under the advisement of the ETTA Board on annual basis to ensure that it meets legal requirements and reflects best practice.

1 Purpose:

ETTA understands that the Learner Induction is the initial stage of the guidance and support services which are provided to learners from before they register at ETTA and continue throughout their course and beyond. It is Academy's policy that all learners from a variety of backgrounds, with a wide range of learning experiences, are entitled to receive an induction that aims to:

1. Ease the transition to studying in ETTA

2. Introduce learners to the three components of the Occupational Qualification:

    knowledge modules, Practical Modules and Workplace Modules.

3. Establish learners as part of the ETTA Community

2 Key Principles

It is essential for the ETTA that learner are provided with all relevant and current information before and during induction with reference to their course of study. It is also a vital aspect of the induction programme that the range of services on offer are made known to learners and that they are made aware of how they can obtain access to these services. They should complete their programme of induction considering that it has been well organised and of clear benefit to them.

3   Learners Registration and Security

1. All learners must register to receive their student number and security card (only for face-to-face learning).

2. The security card will be used to identify students whilst on the Academy grounds or using the facilities.

4   Scope

The Induction will welcome all learners from all denominations of the faith community to ETTA, by creating a friendly atmosphere, help and familiarise the learners with their surroundings and ensure that learners are supported to prepare effectively to meet the demands of their chosen Programme and eventual career path.

5   Content of Induction Programme Pre-Induction

ETTA will make sure that all Learners:

- can meet members of staff who will play a key role during their course

- will learn about the services and facilities available to them including guidance, learning support and the library.

- are informed about the procedures for reporting their absence to Academy and the implications of absence.

- have ready access to all necessary information and advice.

- made aware of relevant key policies.

- are made aware of the importance of consulting with relevant staff if considering withdrawing from their course.

- will be provided with an IT Induction.

5.1   Assessing/Teaching Staff

Assessing/Teaching staff are responsible for ensuring that learners:

- are made aware of the aims of their course structure and booked on appropriate modules including the relevant Occupational Qualification core components.

- find out about the different learning and teaching approaches that will be taken and can identify their own learning style.

- receive initial advice on study skills and are aware of the support provided.

- initiate an Individual Learning Plan.

- are informed about the key assessment regulations and other associated information which apply to them.

- are well informed about Internal Formative Assessment and External Integrated

- Summative Assessment.

6   Delivery of Induction Programme

Communication with applicants will be on regular basis leading up to the induction week, for example, Learner's Handbook and Introductory letters providing detailed pre-entry and induction information including, open days, emails and text messages. The induction programme will be scheduled and delivered in such a way to make for a coherent and effective introduction to Academy life. For example, it is important that Induction activities are not so spread out that students experience long gaps between activities nor should students be expected to come into Academy on any day for only a small amount of activity which students are likely to deem a waste of their time and transport costs. It is essential that once published, any changes to the induction programme are kept to an absolute minimum and are communicated effectively with all concerned. The programme should contain social activities that encourage students to get to know each other and to become acquainted with ETTA layout, the location of key staff, facilities and services.

For Online and Distance Learners, Induction will be done via "Google Classroom" (A platform for Online and Distance Education). All the relevant letters and Handbook will be uploaded on Learner's Personal profiles via 'Anatomy" (A Learner's Information Management System). All the learners can access all their relevant documents and information via smart cell phones, tablets, laptops and computers, anywhere anytime as per Internet resources available.

7   Health and Safety

ETTA understands that Health and safety concern everyone.
For staff and that of other learners:

    a.   Smoke only in smoking areas

    b.   Do not litter - use the bins provided.

    c.   Use the dining room for eating and drinking and wash up.

A qualified OHS representative will give the learners an induction on health and safety regarding our Academy which will include a.   Health matters

    b.   Reporting of incidents

    c.   First aid availability

    d.   Reporting of fires

    e.   Evacuation plan

8   Evaluation and Review

The Student Affairs Manager of ETTA will evaluate the effectiveness of policy relating to Learner's Induction.

1 Introduction

The Quality Council for Trades and Occupations (QCTO) was established in 2010 as a juristic person, in terms of section 26G of the Skills Development Act of 1998. It was listed as a public entity in the Government Gazette No. 33900 of 31 December 2010 effective from 1 April 2010 to establish the Occupational Qualifications Sub-Framework (OQSF) for Trades and Occupations. The QCTO is responsible for the development, maintenance, and quality assurance of qualifications within its Sub-Framework.

An integral and critical component of the QCTO's quality assurance system is the issuing of certificates to learners who have demonstrated competence against occupational qualifications and part qualifications registered on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF). In order to issue credible certificates, the QCTO has set minimum standards for the quality assurance and approval of learner achievements.

2 Legislative and regulatory framework

This policy should be read in conjunction with the following documents:
- National Qualifications Framework (Act 67 of 2008);
- Skills Development Act, 1998 (Act 97 of 1998); and
- QCTO policies
    i. Policy Framework for the Quality Assurance of Qualifications and Part Qualifications on the OQSF;
    ii. Policy on Delegation of Qualification Assessment to Assessment Quality Partners (AQPs);
    iii. Assessment Policy for Qualifications and Part Qualifications on the Occupational Qualifications Framework (OQSF);
    iv. Assessment Quality Partners (AQPs) Criteria and Guidelines;
    v. Policy on Accreditation of Assessment Centres;
    vi. Policy for the implementation of Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL); and
    vii. Certification Policy

2.1 In terms of Section 27 (i) of the NQF Act, the QCTO with regard to quality assurance within its sub-framework is required to:

- o ensure the integrity and credibility of quality assurance;
- o ensure that such quality assurance as is necessary for the sub-framework is undertaken.

2.2 In terms of The Skills Development Act, Act 37 of 2008, the QCTO is responsible for:
- o establishing and maintaining occupational standards and qualifications;
- o the quality assurance of occupational standards and qualifications and learning in and for the workplace;
- o (c) designing and developing occupational standards and qualifications and submitting them to the South African Qualifications Authority (SAQA) for registration on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF); and
- o (d) ensuring the quality of occupational standards and qualifications in and for the workplace.
- o The QCTO as custodian of the OQSF is responsible for the certification of learners who have achieved qualifications or part qualifications registered on the OQSF.

- o for assessment partners for the quality assurance and approval of learner achievements;
- o to ensure the integrity and credibility of its quality assurance regime;
- o to ensure compliance with the policy for the quality assurance and approval of learner achievements; and
- o to ensure that qualifications and assessments are fit for purpose and of an acceptable standard across the qualification system.

This policy addresses the minimum requirements for the quality assurance and approval of learner achievements through the:
- i.   quality assurance of formative assessments;
- ii.   quality assurance of external assessment; and
- iii.   approval of learner achievements

This document further sets out:

5 Quality assurance of assessments

5.1 Final External Integrated Summative Assessment

The QCTO's assessment model for certification comprises of an External Integrated Summative Assessment at the exit points of the qualification and part qualification. The QCTO has systems, processes and procedures to monitor, verify and report on the assessment Requirements. These are implemented by assessment partners and assessment centres in order to maintain standards in assessments.

5.2 Formative Assessments

The quality and standard of formative assessments is determined by ascertaining the level of adherence to:

- o implementing formative assessment processes by skills development providers;
- o the appropriateness of tasks of formative assessments and the
- o verification of these tasks by assessment partners.

The QCTO may:

- o delegate the moderation of formative assessment to appropriate assessment partners and
- o set directives, policies and guidelines for formative assessment.

The above will allow the QCTO to ensure the quality of occupational standards in qualifications.

The QCTO's quality assurance of assessment systems is currently made up of the following processes and procedures:

a. Evaluation and approval of Assessment Partners

b. Ongoing monitoring of Assessment Partners

c. Quality assurance of formative assessment through:

i. Verification and monitoring of the implementation of formative assessment by the assessment partners; and

ii. Verification of formative assessment by the QCTO.

d. Quality assurance of the external integrated summative assessment through:

a. The External Integrated Summative Assessment instrument;

- o Sample monitoring of the conduct of assessments;

Sample monitoring of marking; and

- o Verification and approval of learner achievements.

5.3 Quality Assurance

is based on the QCTO's policies, criteria and guidelines

The quality and standard of assessments is determined by the level of adherence to QCTO's policies, criteria and guidelines in the implementation of: -

- o assessment related processes;
- o the cognitive challenge of the assessment;
- o the appropriateness and weighting of topics in relation to the curriculum;
- o the standard of moderation of assessment instruments;
- o the efficiency and effectiveness of systems, processes, and procedures for the monitoring of the conduct of the assessments;
- o the quality of marking;
- o demonstration of applied competence achieved in the context of the occupational qualification or part qualification; and
- o the quality and standard of internal quality assurance processes within the assessment partner.

5.4 Quality Assurance is based on the Conduct of Assessments

Through the veracity of the assessment partner's systems, process and reports in respect of the minimum quality assurance requirements, the QCTO is able to verify, validate and approve learner achievements.

5.5 Quality assurance is based on the credibility of outputs/results

The quality and standard of results achieved by the candidates will be based on the following:

- o a sample verification of the integrated summative assessment processes;
- o A sample monitoring of the conduct and assessment and marking of the EISA;
- o data will be analysed and unusual patterns of results will be investigated;
- o data on learner enrolment, throughput and achievement will be analysed and findings and feedback will be used to continuously improve the assessments;
- o assessment centres will be monitored to ensure currency of resources, expertise and practice; and
- o employers/industry and employees (candidates) may also be scrutinised to confirm candidates' competence.

- o the adherence of the EISA assessment instruments to the assessment blueprint will be checked.

6 Approval of learner achievements

Results must be submitted by the AQP to the QCTO in the format prescribed by the QCTO.

The QCTO will quality assure the submission of results and inform the AQP of the outcome thereof. Any requirement which is not satisfactorily complied with will be classified as an irregularity. If it is found that the credibility of the assessment is at risk, the QCTO reserves the right:

- o Not to approve the outcome of leaner achievements (or part of it); and
- o In serious cases to revoke the delegation to the assessment partner.

7 Irregularities

For the purposes of this policy an irregularity refers to any event, act or omission and any alleged event, act or omission, which may undermine or threaten to undermine the standard, integrity, credibility, security, or the fairness of the assessment and assessment process and its resultant outcomes.

Assessment partners are required to report any irregularity to the QCTO which may compromise the integrity and credibility of an assessment or its outcomes.

7.1 Minimum Requirements

Assessment Partners must ensure that they have appropriate guidelines in place that deal with the various categories of irregularities as well as any person directly or indirectly involved in assessment functions.

1. Proof of an irregularity that has occurred during any of the following stages of the assessment process:
   a. Implementation:
   b. Formative assessment
   c. Administration:
   d. Including the appointment assessment officials, assessment instrument development and planning for the conduct of assessments
   e. Management:
   f. Conduct of Assessments
   g. Marking and capturing process
   h. Approval:

i. Verification and approval of learner achievement processes.

2. Assessment Partners must ensure that they have procedures and structures in place to effectively investigate and resolve all irregularities, complaints and appeals.

3. Assessment Partners must report the nature and extent of all irregularities to QCTO immediately once they are detected.

8 Requirements for approval of results

8.1 Criteria and Guidelines

Assessment instruments are developed and moderated by approved Assessment Partners, in compliance with QCTO policies, criteria and guidelines.

8.1.1 Minimum Requirements

Assessment Partners must ensure that criteria and guidelines are in place for implementing the External Integrated Summative Assessment (EISA).

8.2 Requirements for Formative Assessments

Assessment Partners are required to monitor the implementation of formative assessments that lead to the issuing of a Statement of Results by the Skills Development Providers (SDPs) for all three components of the qualification.

Formative assessment is regarded as any assessment conducted by the provider, the outcomes of which may or may not contribute towards the Statement of Result.

8.2.1 Minimum Requirements

1. Assessment Partners may develop Formative Assessment protocols that will contribute towards the Statement of Result.

2. Assessment Partners must ensure that they have appropriate policies, criteria and guidelines for the conduct, administration and management of formative assessment. Such policies must be consistent with the curriculum and other policy documents pertaining to the particular qualification.

3. Assessment Partners must ensure that they have effective procedures for the monitoring of formative assessments.

4. Assessment Partners must make available to the QCTO, upon request, for the purposes of verification, a sample of formative assessments together with the moderator reports. The format of the report and the sample will be specified by QCTO.

5. Assessment Partners must, prior to the approval process, submit to the QCTO on the prescribed format a report on the standard of formative assessments.

8.3   Moderation of Assessment Instruments

In order to ensure the fairness and validity of an assessment, the Assessment Partners must ensure that assessments are representative of the prescribed knowledge, practical and workplace components; that the assessment is moderated by a competent moderator appointed by the Assessment Partner and that the assessment instruments may be subjected to an external verification process by the QCTO for confirmation or approval.

The process of moderation of assessment instruments focuses on ensuring that assessment instruments and tools are of an acceptable standard, appropriately cover the Exit Level Outcomes and assessment focus areas as well as the knowledge, practical and workplace components as prescribed in the qualification, curriculum and qualification assessment specification documents (including the QAS addendum), and are presented in an appropriate manner.

8.3.1 Minimum Requirements

    o Must be in its final state and have been moderated by the Assessment Partner;
    o Must be accompanied by the moderator's report and a completed Qualification Assessment Specification addendum which indicates compliance.
    o Must be accompanied by the marking memoranda (or competency rubrics).

5. Assessment Partners must ensure that "back-up" assessment instruments are readily available should the need arise.

6. Unless otherwise agreed to, only QCTO verified assessment instruments may be presented to candidates completing the External Integrated Summative Assessment (EISA).

8.4 Monitoring the Conduct of Assessments

Assessment Partners must take adequate measures to combat irregularities before, during and after assessment and during marking and must take adequate security measures to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of the assessments.

The QCTO will monitor the following three main aspects:

   - o includes the assessment partner's marking and moderation plan .

4. Assessment Partners must submit irregularity reports (specified format), where relevant, to the QCTO during the writing and marking/assessment phases of the assessments.

5. Assessment Partners must, prior to the approval of learner achievements, submit to the QCTO a report on the conduct and marking of assessments.

8.5 Moderation of Assessments

Moderation of assessments is conducted to ensure that marking is conducted in accordance with acceptable practices and requirements in order to ensure the reliability and consistency of assessments.

Assessment Partners must ensure that a representative sample of scripts or evidence are moderated. The sample must be representative across the mark range as well across assessors/markers. The following is a guide to the number of scripts or evidence to be moderated.
   - o If less than 10 – 100 %
   - o If less than 100 – 25 %
   - o Above 100 – 10 %
